“ I have just learned of Karen's death after calling to schedule my annual mammogram. I can't quite take it in that she is gone. I've been seeing Karen since the 90's at Chicago Medical School in the old house there. She was the kindest mammographer I ever had. She warmed the plates with a heating pad, encouraged me with light conversation and showed me my films before I left. Technically she was spot on, rarely having to repeat a film, for which I was always grateful. Since I am a nurse, we often talked shop and laughed together over our chosen fields of service. We discussed issues of faith, shared stories and prayed for each others prayer needs. She was a quiet, calm spiritual woman but she had a wonderful sense of humor too. I enjoyed her so much, and looked forward to seeing her every year, where I was sure to be treated as her special guest. I will miss her very much and am sure I will never find her equal. My heart goes out to her family for she was a rare and special woman. She deeply loved her family and was very proud of them. God bless and strengthen you as you mourn her loss.

Psalm 18:2 The Lord is my rock, my fortress and my deliverer; my God is my rock, in whom I take refuge. He is my shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold.

“ I have known of Karen for approximately 10 years. As a fellow mammographer at a different facility I have had the pleasure of speaking with Karen over the phone regarding film transfers and mutual patients over the years. She was always so friendly and responsive. I could always count on Karen to help in any way she could.

I had the privilege of finally getting the opportunity to meet her this past year. I found her to be kind, compassionate and a woman of integrity who loved her family very much. As long as she had been performing mammograms she still took the time with each patient to make sure they felt comfortable and she carefully positioned them to get the best possible images, as she believed she could potentially save someone's life. Mammographers with her years of experience that still demonstrate that level of passion and commitment are rare in our profession. She was a blessing to all of the patients she worked with over the years. I am sure she will be sadly missed by the patients who had been coming back to her year after year for their exams.

God bless and keep you Karen. May you rest in peace for all eternity my friend. You have left your mark in this world by sharing your gifts selflessly in the service of others and in the love you have shown your family and friends. My thoughts and prayers are with your family, friends and co-workers during this very difficult time.

“ Richard and Allison - My daughter, Michelle, told me of Karen's passing. I am so sorry to hear of your loss. Although I have not seen Karen in many years, my memory of her is of a kind, caring and happy person. What beautiful tributes others have written about her. My heart and prayers go out to you as you grieve her loss from your life. May God comfort and sustain you throughout this time.

Fondly,
