“ You were and always will be my hero. No words can describe the loss my heart feels without you here. You were the best big brother a girl could ask for. You were genuine and kind and am amazing person. You were the glue that held us all together . I'll never forget all of our shenanigans growing up.... And boy where there many:) I'll miss you to the moon and back but I still know you'll be up there watching out . I love you and I look forward to one day seeing you again.
