“ Uncle Roger was a wonderful man who cared deeply for his family and friends. I know he loved my mother and her sisters greatly, and his compassion was known by all members of our family. Knowledgeable, intelligent, and full of wit; he sparked my own interest in science fiction, and was the kind of man you were not afraid to be honest and yourself around. His was a character we are all worse off for having lost, and we will all miss him, but will cherish his memory greatly.

“ I will always remember Roger's favorite card game, "Pinochle" and the fun we had teaching his wife how to play. He has a special place in my heart as a good family man who loved his wife and children. He told me stories of how he would buy his daughter dolls, how he would guide his son to knowing how to be a good man, and the love he had for his dear wife. Good bye Roger, you will never be forgotten. Jan Paris
