“ She really love her family couldn't stop talking about them. She took me to her couch in the basement and grab photo albums to show me baby pictures of her kids: Peg, Paul, and Phil. She grab pictures of Paul's daughter Tina when she was baby to share with me. She love sharing memories of her family. She made me laugh dancing around the basement to prove that she didn't need her cane! At one point jumping on the exercise bike to show me she could use her legs! She was like a teenager pulling me into her room the next night to tell me she had a crush on one of the priest and would make a point to try to see him every time she attend mass! She hated the idea of being old or getting old! She love Elvis Presley and show me her collection of all her Elvis things! - I will miss her and am really glad to have met her in 2011 before I got married to Dale (her grandson) -Sandra Zalewski
