“ Vic, or “Uncle Vic” as my children called him, was very special to me and my family. In 1987 I was sent up north to work in Lake County, whereas all of our family and friends were 1 1/2 or more hours south. Vic took us in and treated us like his family so we had both a work and personal relationship, and he always included us in his family functions as my children were growing up. Two of his kids even ended up working for my company at some point. I will never forget how he made us feel at home up here. I will miss him very much.
